The image displays seven vertical columns of hieroglyphs, labeled with Greek letters from alpha to zeta. Each column is headed by 'TICb'. The columns contain various hieroglyphic symbols, some of which are annotated with numbers and asterisks. For example, column alpha has a '694' annotation, column gamma has '703', and column zeta has '713'. Some symbols are marked with '1*' or '2*'. The columns are arranged in a roughly parallel fashion, with some columns being longer than others.
